

V.P.I.—A. & M. GAME IN NORFOLK TO-DAY

Both Teams in Fine Condition and Confident of Victory.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Norfolk, Va., November 24.—Football interest in Virginia centres largely in the game here to-morrow between the Virginia Polytechnic Institute eleven and the Agricultural and Mechanical College team of North Carolina. The game will be played at night with crowds of rooters from both institutions, and college yells and songs could be heard on every street corner. Both teams are in the city, and are in the best of condition for the game, the result of which will be a great factor in deciding the championship of the South Atlantic division of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the South.

Coach Bocock is confident that the Techs will add another string to their list of victories, which, including every antagonist of the season, except Princeton, by whom they were defeated by the closest kind of a margin. The North Carolinians claim to be much stronger than when they defeated V. P. I. last year, when the odds favored the Virginians. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

The Blacksburg line-up will be practically the same used in the George Washington game, which was as follows:
Club, centre; Jones and Hodgson, E. guards; Burruss and Norris, tackles; Hicks and Luttrell, ends; Hughes, quarter back; Billups and Davis, half-backs; Hodgson, V. B., full back. About 500 cadets from Blacksburg will see the game.

V. M. L.-DAVIDSON GAME.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., November 24.—The football teams representing the Virginia Military Institute and Davidson College of North Carolina, are here to-night, ready for the annual game to-morrow. Both teams are confident of victory, but V. M. I. seems to have good chances for winning. There is little or no betting tonight, and interest in the game is at a low ebb. The cadet corps, contrary to custom, will not come to see this year's contest.

Will Test Law Thoroughly.
OAKLAND, CAL., November 24.—Charles Brown and Edward Martin, horse-race bookmakers, arrested at Emeryville track on Monday, accused of violating anti-gambling law, were arraigned in court to-day. The preliminary examination was set for Friday morning. The men were arraigned on charges of felony. Under the statute the judge has the option of considering the offense either as a misdemeanor or felony. To test the law thoroughly, the California Jockey Club requested that the men be charged with a felony.

"How Aworthy" Sold.
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., November 24.—Allendale Farm of this city, has sold the handsome chestnut stallion How Aworthy, record 2:22 1-4, to G. R. Cooke, of Trenton, N. J., for $550.

JACKETS AND SPIDERS READY FOR FINAL TEST

Two well seasoned teams will meet at Broad Street Park this afternoon, when the Yellow Jackets, of Randolph-Macon, will tackle the Richmond College Spiders in the last football game of the year on the local campus. Reports indicate that the eleven will be in good condition for the contest, and large numbers of rooters from each of the institutions will be on hand. The contest will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Rowe, of the Yellow Jackets, who has been out of the game for the past few weeks, will be in the game to-day, but it is feared that Jackson will be out of his place at left tackle. The Randolph-Macon squad will leave its campus at 2 o'clock and will be here in time for a short signal practice before the game starts.

Taylor, right end, is the only Richmond player who will not be in the line-up this afternoon. The game will test the strength of the two teams for the season, as the only other match between the rivals resulted in an 0 to 0 score.

The Randolph-Macon players will be picked from the following: Drewry, captain; Newberry, Chapman, Deshaez, Jordan, Gillette, Chaplain, Simpson, Rowe, Lawless, Carroll, Fisher, Hardy, Day, Wray, Turner, Bryan, Kuhn and Rowe.

SCENE OF RACING SHIFTS TO FLORIDA

Six High-Class Events Scheduled for Inaugural Meet.

TAMPA, FLA., November 24.—With the closing of the racing tracks in the North, East and West the racing scene will shift to-morrow to Florida, two new mile tracks being opened in this State for 100 days' racing. The Tampa track, which will be formally christened to-morrow, is located in West Tampa. To-night the hotels and lodging houses are taxed to their capacity with visitors and horsemen. Over 400 horses are in the stable here, now. The meeting here is under the auspices of the Florida State Fair Association. Patrick Dunne, the well-known horseman, will be the presiding judge, with Judge Charles Godshaw as his assistant. Among the class of horses here are such well-known thoroughbreds as Boca Grande, Lens, Halfway, Alice, J. C. Core, etc. The feature event to-morrow is the inaugural handicap, at six furlongs, for a $1,000 purse, and Florida State Fair Association trophy. In this race that royal old campaigner, Halfway, picks up the top weight, 115 pounds, to contest against such sprinters as Kid, La Salle, Joe Moser, Hyperion III, Alice Crane and others. Five other high-class events have been carded.

Two Football Games.
Two football games will be played on the campus of the Virginia Union University this afternoon. The first will be between the Olympia Social Club and the Eagle Social club, and will be called at 1:30 o'clock. The other will be the regular Thanksgiving game between the Virginia Union University and the Fredericksburg High School. It will be called at 3:30 P. M. These will probably be the last interesting football games played in the State this season.

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy of Music—"The Right of Way," matinee and night.
Bijou—"The Burgomaster."

Melodrama Poorly Done.
About half a house at the Academy of Music to-night witnessed the melodrama based upon Stewart Edward White's "Confederate House," with Paul Gilmore in the leading part, supported by a company which included two or three people who were satisfactory between the Virginia Union University and the Fredericksburg High School. It will be called at 3:30 P. M. These will probably be the last interesting football games played in the State this season.

Julius Wright, who, as the factor, was the heavy man, was absolutely unimpaired. As the hero's sweetheart, as Virginia, the hero's sweetheart, was simply pathetic. William Vaughan and Ed Redding, as the two misogynistic old Scotchmen, were really amusing. Although they were intended to be. The other bright spots in the performance were the mighty Hudson Bay Company. When he attempted to play the idea of the brave and debonaire free trader, fighting for his life against the mighty Hudson Bay Company. When he attempted to play the idea of the brave and debonaire free trader, fighting for his life against the mighty Hudson Bay Company.

It is a pleasure to be able to add that the scenery was good. W. D. G. PRESS NOTES FROM THE THEATRES.
"Night of Way."
Edison has made the dramatization of Sir Gilbert Parker's Canadian novel, "The Night of Way," which, with a capable cast, is to be the attraction at the Academy to-day, matinee and night. The story as readers of the book originally published in 1901, will remember, dealt in picturesque and adventurous fashion with the redemption in part of a castaway life by an act of self-reun-clation. In the play Presbury evades the final issue, leaving the ultimate union of separation of the lovers to the imagination of the spectators. The first act of the play is largely devoted to the exposition of character. In the second, third and fourth acts the methods are those of melodrama. For the players, Hallet Thompson acts Stuart T. August Anderson, an accomplished actor, takes the role of the woodsman, Joe Portugal, and other characters fall to Messrs. Kennedy, Norris, Rushoff and Dilluck. Misses Hackett, Ward, Dean and La Motte.

"Mary's Lamb."
One of the most sensational features of "Mary's Lamb," the musical comedy in which Richard Carle appears at the Academy to-morrow night is a set of shadowgraph pictures, for which prominent models in fishings pose behind a screen. These pictures are shown when Miss Adele Hartler sings one of the favorite songs of the play, "The Modest Little Model."

"The Red Mill."
The Academy presents for "The Red Mill" engagement at the Academy Monday and Tuesday nights, November 29 and 30, and matinee Tuesday, will open this morning at 2 o'clock. With a record of one whole year at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York City, "The Red Mill" has been presented here by Martin & Emery Company's admirable organization in as complete a manner as given in New York, with the picturesque scenery, quaint costumes, the "Mill" thrill; also the sextet of cute little Dutch kiddies and the exceptionally "clever cast." There is little doubt that the engagement here will be a record-breaker.—Adv.

DEDICATE NEW HOME

Two Bishops Take Part in Services at Episcopal Institution.
Dedication services were held yesterday afternoon at the Protestant Episcopal Church home, which has recently moved into its new building at the corner of Grove Avenue and Rowland Street. The services were held at 4 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of Episcopalians, including members of the board and the clergy of the city.

Addresses were made by Bishop Gibson and Bishop-Confessor Lloyd, by whom the services were conducted. The parlors of the home were tastefully decorated with flowers. After the dedication services there was a musical entertainment given to the inmates, nearly all of whom were able to attend.

Several Sites Inspected.
Without a quorum present four members of the Finance Committee and a number of citizens yesterday afternoon inspected several of the sites proposed for the Confederate Battle Abbey. No formal action was taken.

Insulted a White Woman.
George P. Bell (colored) was arrested yesterday afternoon for insulting a white woman on the street. Bell was drunk at the time, and a policeman claims to have heard the remark.

A. A. Yoder, Editor, Locked in Criminal's Cell

For publishing in his paper, The Idea, criticisms of certain city officials, Adon A. Yoder was on last Monday night arrested on criminal warrant, his private papers were confiscated, excessive bail was demanded, and after being driven through the streets in a patrol wagon HE WAS LOCKED IN A CELL LIKE A COMMON CRIMINAL until the trial of the case. The trial will come up Friday in the Police Court.

Certain citizens who believe in the Freedom of the Press met and organized with the determination to see a fellow-citizen protected in this right and to see fair play. BIG WINTER MEET AT MONCHIEF PARK

Six Races Daily, Covering a Period of Nearly Four Months.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., November 24.—Everything is in readiness for the opening of the big winter meet at Monchief Park, and when the bugle blows Thanksgiving afternoon the indications are that at least 15,000 people will be within the big inclosure. The plant is pronounced by many race-horse experts as the equal, if not superior to any of the winter tracks of the country.

In the neighborhood of 1,200 horses are here now. Already a large delegation is here from New York and other Eastern cities. The big event opening day will be the Thanksgiving handicap of one mile for three-year-olds and up. Jack Atkin, the famous son of Sain, is entered in this race, and will carry top weight of 135 pounds.

The meet is scheduled to last 110 days or more, and the indications are that it will be one of the most successful winter meets ever held in this country. There will be six races daily. The city is filled with visitors from all sections of the country.
